fit4school

The Swiss fit4school foundation is committed to the success of its students. It develops age-, on demand-oriented, and personalized-school coaching and tutoring support.

The aim is to teach students strategies, methods and the latest techniques that will help them better facing school and social expectations in a more focus and relaxed way, with less distraction.

We are also supporting children and teenagers facing challenges with their learning methodologies, including challenges related to DYS, HIP, ADHD, etc.*
